A Message from Her Honour
The Lieutenant Governor of Saskatchewan

It is my privilege to serve as Honourary Patron of RCE Saskatchewan. I warmly welcome everyone to this 7th Recognition Event and I congratulate and thank those who have contributed to the featured projects.

Attitudes towards sustainability have changed back and forth over the years. Those who lived through the lean years of the 1930s were the original recyclers, and were driven by necessity to reuse every item possible. Those of us who were raised by parents who lived through the Great Depression inherited their frugality, so that even though our circumstances have improved, we still abhor waste. Today, however, there are many examples of waste. It can be less expensive to throw out a printer when the toner runs out because it is cheaper to buy a new printer than to get a new toner cartridge!

Clearly, what is needed is a sea-change. We need a broad transformation in attitude, so that businesses and industries understand that sustainability can be a financial asset, communities understand that the environment should be a consideration in every aspect of planning, and individuals feel a sense of interconnectedness between all living things. Only then will we see real and lasting change.

I am deeply grateful to RCE Saskatchewan and to all who support their worthy goals for inspiring change through education. Please accept my best wishes for an informative, productive, and enjoyable gathering at the University of Saskatchewan.

Vaughn Solomon Schofield
Lieutenant Governor
Province of Saskatchewan
